Overview

Amancaya Stapylton focuses her practice in corporate co-determination law, individual employment law and data protection under employment law. She is determined and persevering in her commitment to her clients, but appreciates teamwork and fair cooperation and also responds empathetically to the opposing side. Amancaya enjoys leveraging her experience from large international law firms to negotiate in English.

Amancaya has completed law traineeship at the District Court of Frankfurt am Main, Germany, with four stations. She also has experience as a research assistant at a Frankfurt firm.
