Overview

Vahe Mesropyan represents and advises employers through all phases of litigation involving labor and employment issues, including single plaintiff, class action, and PAGA matters.

Prior to joining Littler, Vahe gained substantial litigation and class action experience as an associate in multinational and regional boutique litigation firms. In these roles, he successfully litigated multimillion-dollar lawsuits on behalf of both plaintiffs and defendants. Prior to that, Vahe served as a judicial law clerk in the U.S. District Court for the Central District of California under the supervision of the Hon. Patrick J. Walsh (Ret.). He also clerked for the Federal Trade Commission and the I.R.S. Office of Chief Counsel.

During law school, Vahe participated in UC Irvine School of Law's moot court and mock trial competitions. He also received multiple awards for his grades in his courses.
