Overview

With experience that covers the full range of employment and labor law, Van Goodwin routinely defends employers in complex employment litigation in both state and federal courts, as well as in agency proceedings before the U. S. Department of Labor, the National Labor Relations Board and various California agencies responsible for the enforcement of California employment and labor relations laws.

He has extensive experience representing clients in matters involving:

- Employment discrimination
- Sexual harassment
- Wrongful termination
- Wage and hour (including prevailing wage laws)
- Leaves of absence
- Personnel / human resources issues

He also devotes a significant part of his practice to labor law involving:

- Collective bargaining
- Labor arbitrations

- Union organizing
- NLRB proceedings

Additionally, Van counsels and conducts training for employers in all aspects of employment and labor law, including:

- Preventing employment discrimination and sexual harassment
- Counter-union organizing
- Lawful hiring and termination
- Wage and hour compliance
- Prevailing wage laws

He also frequently speaks on employment and labor relations issues before numerous national, state and local business and professional associations.

Van represents employers in a variety of industries, including:

- Agriculture
- Aerospace
- Biotech
