

About Littler

Global Labor and Employment Law

With more than 1,500 attorneys in over 80 offices, Littler is the largest U.S.-based law practice exclusively devoted to representing management in employment and labor law matters. Littler has extensive resources to address the needs of U.S.-based and multi-national clients from navigating domestic and international employment laws and labor relations issues to applying corporate policies worldwide.

Given our singular focus in the area of labor and employment law, many Littler attorneys have spent their careers cultivating full-time practices solely devoted to employment law subspecialties, such as international employment and labor law, class action prevention and litigation, immigration and global migration, unfair competition and trade secrets, labor relations, privacy and employee benefits. Preventative programs such as class action audits help employers to correct problems before they develop into costly and time-consuming lawsuits. And our commitment to using state-of-the-art technology enables attorneys and staff to share vital knowledge with clients and each other at a moment's notice across multiple time zones.

Littler is also notable for delivering online and live training programs and legal handbooks that help employers to ensure their organizations comply with laws everywhere they have operations. Our reputation as one of the leading providers of employment law education is further reinforced by the many informative seminars we hold each year, including our flagship The Executive Employer® Conference.

Established in 1942, Littler has litigated, mediated and negotiated some of the most influential employment law cases and labor contracts on record. Every day Littler strives to simplify the business of employment law — leaving clients free to focus on the bottom line. To learn more, visit us online at littler.com.
