Overview

Alexys Rosandich brings a diverse legal background to her labor and employment practice, having previously worked in general litigation, premises liability, transactional business matters, mineral title work, and employment law. Her experience is complemented by a strong foundation in trial advocacy and a business-oriented perspective, shaped by prior roles as a research assistant at the University of Kentucky College of Law and a mergers and acquisitions intern at a global investment firm.

Alexys earned both her J.D. and B.B.A. from the University of Kentucky, where she was actively involved in student leadership, serving on the Women's Law Caucus Executive Board and the Trial Advocacy Board. She also studied abroad at Queen Mary University of London and completed coursework at Xavier University.
