Overview

Alice A. Kokodis provides practical advice to clients in a broad range of employment law matters. She has extensive experience litigating employment disputes of all types, including defending employers against claims of discrimination, retaliation, harassment, wrongful discharge, and wage and hour violations. She has appeared in over 15 jurisdictions on behalf of her clients, and before federal and state courts, the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, the Massachusetts Commission Against Discrimination, and the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority.

She draws on that litigation experience to counsel employers on effective strategies for avoiding litigation when possible, and preparing for litigation when it is unavoidable. Alice often partners with her client's legal and HR teams, to provide advice at every stage of the employment relationship, ranging from the initial hiring, to every facet of daily operations, including compensation, performance management and terminations. Alice regularly drafts and negotiates executive employment contracts and severance agreements.

As a member of Littler's Leaves of Absence and Disability Accommodation Practice Group, Alice also advises clients in the administration of leave of absence and accommodation policies, including training management and HR staff on issues; and defending claims under the Family and Medical Leave Act, Americans with Disabilities Act and the Massachusetts Paid Family and Medical Leave.

Alice frequently represents small companies to Fortune 500 companies in the following industries:

- Financial services
- Hospitality
- Healthcare
- High tech
- Retail
- Pharmaceutical
- Bio tech

Alice is committed to pro bono activities and has dedicated her time as pro bono counsel to a Boston area nonprofit that provides programs and services aimed at preventing suicide.

Alice served two terms on the Human Resources Board for the Town of Wellesley, MA.
