Overview

As a member of the Littler CaseSmart – Charges™ team and based in Florida, Allison Wiggins is responsible for handling charges from investigation to conclusion. She works on client-dedicated service teams, focusing on handling administrative agency charges. She investigates charge allegations, reviews pertinent documents, interviews key witnesses, and provides clients an assessment of the risks associated with the charge. In partnership with the client, she defends the charge by drafting persuasive position statements and responses to the agency's requests for information.

Allison is a seasoned employment law attorney, with extensive experience handling administrative agency charges from federal, state, and local agencies throughout the United States. She previously practiced as an employment defense litigator, representing clients of all sizes – from Fortune 500 companies to small independently owned businesses – in cases involving harassment, discrimination, retaliation, wrongful termination, breach of employment contract, and whistleblower claims, in state and federal court. Allison's prior experience includes serving as a legal and HR executive for publicly traded and private equity backed companies.
