Overview

Hannes Barck has been an attorney since 2015, and advises his national and international clients in all areas of individual and collective employment law, including related litigation in all instances.

He focuses his practice on advising clients regarding questions of collective bargaining law, the ongoing advice on employment law for companies, including compliance matters, and in termination law. Before joining Littler Germany, Hannes worked in a well-known medium-sized law firm and as a sole attorney, where he expanded his experience in consultancy on employment and criminal law issues.

Hannes completed legal internships at the Berlin Regional Court, the Berlin Public Prosecutor's Office, the German Bundestag, a medium-sized Berlin law firm and an honorary consulate and law firm in Calgary, Canada, among others.
