Overview

Since 2023, Łukasz Kuczkowski has been supporting labor and employment law clients, particularly in matters related to social security, compliance, and forms of employee pension security.

Łukasz focuses his practice on collective bargaining and labor relations, social security, as well as collective redundancies and workforce restructuring. He also advises clients on HR compliance, hirings and firings, and employee pension security and provisions. He also implements new technologies for the organisation of work, communication and management of law firms.

Łukasz is recommended by The Legal 500 EMEA international ranking for labour law and white-collar crime, and has authored numerous articles on labor law.
