Overview

Yoann Voulhoux has been advising companies for over 15 years on their most strategic and sensitive social and employment issues. His hands-on operational experience, notably in his role as a Human Resources Director, gives him a rigorous and pragmatic approach to legal matters, closely aligned with business realities.

A graduate of a business school and holder of two master's degrees from Paris II Panthéon-Assas University in labor law and tax law, Yoann has also held judicial positions for nearly 10 years, providing him with a comprehensive perspective at the intersection of operations, HR strategy and litigation.
